CHRISTMAS TIME NEARLY HERE.
The sun has by the brook have lost their red.
The mill-wheel stands dumb and still;
The leaves have fallen and the birds have fled;
The flowers we loved in summer are all dead,
And the wintry winds blow chill.
Yet something makes this dreariness less drear,
The Merry, Merry Christmas time is nearly here.

A. T. Combs, who was defeated for the Democratic nomination for sheriff in the primary recently held in Wolfe county for county offices and who filed a contest before the committee, has withdrawn his contest.

On the Licking, Red and Kentucky river banks in Breathitt, Magallon and Owsley counties forest fires have destroyed large numbers of rafts belonging to Eastern syndicates and the loss will be thousands of dollars.

Capt. W. J. Seabers, of Winchester, a prominent Knight of Pythias, had his right arm cut off at the elbow last Friday afternoon at the planing mill of R. P. Seabers & Son by a circular saw, which he accidentally came in contact with.

J. A. McCormick, of Pittsburgh, Pa., has secured a lease on 800 acres of land lying east of Camp-on from Judge S. M. Tutt, and will begin the sinking of a test well at once. This land is about four miles from the oil territory which has been developed at the west end of Camp-on.

The Irish potato is said to make the best pen wiper. There is a peculiar acid in the potato which neutralizes the ink on pens and prevents them from rusting, and that is one of the main reasons for using them. They keep the pens clean, too, and there is nothing hanging to the pen when it is drawn out. It is the best thing out and will be used for a long time to come. Try it.

Circuit court adjourned at Hindman last week after a two weeks session. A great amount of work was done on the civil docket and another term like the one just passed will almost dispose of the civil cases. Bates Jacobs was sentenced to the penitentiary for one year for malicious cutting and wounding. C. Dials and Monroe Sloan were sentenced to the reform school for two years for the same offense.

The trend of development in the oil fields is toward Wolfe county. With the entrance of a pipe line into that field all the old producers are being put to work and a fair production is being obtained. A late completion shows up to be good for 100 barrels. The value of Wolfe county wells is based principally upon the depth of the oil is considered more lasting. No completions have been made in Estill county for two or three weeks. Several wells are being drilled.

Peace having settled down on the devoted heads of the Hatfields of West Virginia, and the McCoy's of Kentucky, and that famous feud apparently ended, nearly all of the Hatfields journeyed to a western state that their remaining years might be of peace. Yet two or three of the Hatfields remained behind and they were enough to start another feud, this time with the Dutys, George Hensley, son-in-law of "Devil" Anse Hatfield, threatened to kill two of the Dutys, but they got him first. John Daniels, of the Hatfield faction, evened up by killing Marion Duty, and the feud is on. In the Hatfield-McCoy feud forty men were killed, and it all started over a hog back hog that wasn't worth killing.

EXHIBIT PERMANENT.
Kentucky's Fine Exhibit at the World's Fair to be Returned for New State Capitol.

The good done by the Kentucky World's Fair Commission is not to die with it. The better part of the magnificent exhibit of the State's products and resources made at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition is to be returned to the commonwealth to become the nucleus of a permanent museum in the new capitol at Frankfort. Plans in line with this action were formulated at a meeting of the commission held November 29 in Louisville.

The State Geological Bureau and the State Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington are to be made custodians of the exhibits, subject to further disposition by the General Assembly. The mineral and forestry exhibits are to go to the Geological Board and the agricultural exhibit to the Experiment Station.

It is the hope of the commission that a place will be made in the new State Capitol. All of the acts of President A. Y. Ford, of R. E. Hughes, Secretary and Director of Exhibits, and of the executive committee were approved unanimously and a resolution adopted strongly commending them for work done.

One act which was especially applauded was that of the sale of the Kentucky building on such favorable terms. It will be remembered that when Kentucky was allotted a site for a State building at the exposition, the commission had to agree, as did all other commissions, to remove the building within sixty days of the close of the fair, clear the site of all rubbish and restore grounds to shape and grade. In all estimates the Kentucky Commission has figured on absolutely no salvage from this source, believing it would cost as much to conform to the rules of the exposition in this regard as could be secured from the sale. The belief was natural, the commission having for its guidance the results of the wreckage at Chicago, when the California building, which cost $85,000, was sold for $500. After taking several bids on the Kentucky building, some of the exhibitors wanting to charge the commission for removing the structure, the bid of a Chicago wrecking company for $325 was accepted.

The financial report made by the secretary showed that there would be funds left on hand at the wind-up of the business to be turned back into the State treasury. At least $1,000 of the $3,500 appropriated for the commissioners' expenses will not be spent.

The board decided to give the fine piano in the Kentucky building to the Governor's mansion at Frankfort, to remain there for the use of Gov. Beckham and family and future governors and their families.

The court of appeals, Friday, overruled the petition for rehearing filed some time ago in the case of J. W. Bess, the Lexington murderer, under sentence of death for killing Mrs. Mary McQuinn Martin. The mandate of the court was sent to the executive department and Governor Beckham fixed the date for the hanging January 13. Bess was convicted of killing Mrs. Martin and throwing her body into a pond near the city limits of Lexington. The evidence against him was largely circumstantial. He had two trials before jury and received the death sentence from each.

SMALLPOX WARNING.

The State Board of Health has issued the following circular:
Since January, 1898, smallpox has prevailed, more or less extensively, in every county in Kentucky, with a total of over 25,000 cases and 300 deaths, and costing in cash more than one-half million dollars, besides an estimated loss from interference with business and travel of something over one and one-half million dollars. Properly expended, this sum would have been more than enough to have guarded the health interests of our people for a generation, besides keeping every resident of the State vaccinated so that the existence of anything but an imported case of smallpox would have been impossible.

With the advent of cold weather, cases of the disease are being reported in widely separated sections in many counties, and we feel that it is again our duty to warn our officials and people of the necessity of prompt action to prevent serious and expensive local outbreaks. Fortunately, the prevention of this disease is as certain and safe as it is cheap and easy, and although it is unlawful to remain unvaccinated at any time, in the face of existing conditions intelligent people should not wait for the law to force them to evident duty. Vaccination and re-vaccination properly done with virus, is a sure preventative, and is entirely free from danger. It should always be done by a competent physician, with clean hands and instruments, at three points, at least an inch apart, on a well cleaned arm, and should dry thoroughly before the sleeve is drawn down. Fresh, reliable commercial virus can be procured, but it is difficult to keep it active, and the board prefers and recommends the use of humanized virus, especially in the country districts where the family physician can select it himself from the arms of healthy children and young girls. It is more certain to take, causes less soreness, and is believed to give better and longer protection. If the seals are wrapped in tissue paper, sealed up and put in a dry, cool place, they can be kept indefinitely.

Physicians everywhere should be on their guard and should isolate the first case and vaccinate all exposed at once. Grown people almost never have chicken-pox. When unvaccinated, grown people have an eruptive disease, under existing circumstances they should be isolated and treated as suspicious until the health authorities decide it is not smallpox. All should remember that there are no such diseases as "elephant itch," "African itch," "army itch," "cedar itch," or "Cuban itch," and these are "nigger" names for smallpox. Every person in the State who has not already been vaccinated should do so at once.

The total vote cast in Kentucky at the last election as shown by the official records at Frankfort is 435,755. The leading Democratic elector received 217,170 votes and the leading Republican elector 205,227 votes, making a Democratic majority of 11,893 votes.

OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM PUBLISHED

Japanese Forces Reported to Have Abandoned 203 Meter Hill—Russia Purchasing Men of War—Kuropatkin Reports Skirmishes—Unsettled Active at Shanghai.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 5.—Captain Clado (who has been detached from the Baltic sea squadron to give evidence before the North sea commission) publishes a memorandum submitted by Admiral Skrydloff to the emperor last April, giving the composition of the squadron to be sent out to the Pacific. The list includes the ships of Vice Admiral Hozhtevsky's command and also of the third squadron, including the coast defense ships Slava, Nicholas I. and Alexander II, the cruisers Korovnik, Puzhnik, Abrek and Volodya and several torpedo boat destroyers, and in case need of further reinforcements should make it necessary to dispatch part of the Black sea fleet.

The Russian war office is unable to confirm the report from Chiofo that the Japanese have been unable to hold 203-meter hill, but this news is quite in accordance with expectations. Experts here are convinced that the capture of 203-meter hill will be of no advantage to the Japanese unless they can gain possession of the neighboring forts.
General Kuropatkin reports important skirmishes. He states that Russian scouts found at one point on the left flank 17 Japanese corpses entirely stripped of clothing, probably by the local inhabitants. General Kuropatkin also relates the discovery of two wounded Russians who had been overlooked and left in the trenches since Oct. 15. One of them, who had been less severely wounded than the other, procured food by searching the bodies of the slain, and upon this they had survived for five days.

TERRIBLE LOSSES
Sustained by the Japanese in Storming 203-Meter Hill.

Tokyo, Dec. 5.—The diary of the fighting around 203-meter hill, which is published in the Japanese papers, describes the terrible losses involved in the storming of the Russian position from dawn of Nov. 28 till 11 o'clock in the forenoon of that day. A Russian counter attack began at dawn on Nov. 28, and was so furiously pushed that the Japanese were compelled to retire from both sides of the hill into the valley. The attack was renewed the morning of Nov. 29, when all the Japanese reserves came up from the south-western corner, but these assaults only advanced 20 meters by 5 o'clock, so stubborn was the resistance, and the Japanese suffered severe losses. Then, being reinforced, the Japanese maintained the struggle with terrible earnestness. Furious charges were repeatedly made, and the Russians were compelled gradually to retire. The southwestern summit of the hill was not occupied until 7 o'clock in the evening, and the north-western summit not until 8 o'clock. During the night 81 Russian counter attacks were repulsed.

Reported Japanese Disaster.
Mukden, Dec. 6.—The force of Japanese sent to turn General Romanenko's flank has been repulsed with heavy loss, according to reports reaching here. It is stated that General Romanenko, who knew this movement was maturing, awaited the Japanese at the mouth of one of the captured passes, and that the Japanese turning force threw themselves unsuspectingly into the ambush, where, after the fight, the Russians collected 500 corpses. It is added that there are 4,000 more Japanese corpses which it has been impossible to collect owing to the fire of the Japanese. This does not include the Japanese lost in wounded. The Russian loss, according to this account, was only 20 or 30 men.

Russian Ships Destroyed.
Tokyo, Dec. 6.—It is reported that the Japanese bombardment against the fleet at Port Arthur is proceeding to the satisfaction of the attacking forces. On the evening of the 4th instant (Sunday) two or three Russian ships were fired and burned in a half hour. Their names and the extent of the damage done are not known. It is generally believed that the Russian fleet must either make an early sortie or suffer irreparable damage.

Russian Activity at Shanghai.
London, Dec. 5.—The Morning Post's correspondent at Shanghai telegraphs as follows: "Russia practically is converting Shanghai into a depot for her military and naval stores. A local German butcher has received a Russian order for several million pounds of meat. Large quantities of coal are held here on Russian account. The reinforcement of Shanghai's neutrality is arousing great indignation."

Japan's Heavy Losses.
Chefoo, Dec. 5.—It is reliably reported to the Russian consul here that the Japanese lost 15,000 men in the fighting incident to the capture of 203-meter hill.

Run On a Bank.
Buffalo, Dec. 2.—A fight for the controlling interest in the German American bank resulted in a run on that institution, estimated by Vice President Schilling at $100,000. The withdrawals were made by large depositors so that the run did not cause any perceptible excitement.

IMMIGRATION FIGURES.
Material Decrease Shown During the Last Fiscal Year.

Washington, Dec. 5.—During the last fiscal year immigration to this country has materially decreased, and it is notable that the moral, intellectual and physical qualifications of the immigrants admitted to this country during the past year are higher than ever heretofore. As has been chronicled, there are two salient features of the annual report of Frank P. Sargent, commissioner general of immigration. The report says that during the past fiscal year 812,870 aliens arrived in the United States, of which 549,100 were males and 263,770 females, an increase in the females as compared with last year of 19,870, and a decrease in the males of 64,906. Of the total number admitted immigrants, 2,853 could read but not write; 168,505 could neither read nor write and it is presumed the remainder, 640,014 could both read and write. More than 95,000 brought with them $50 or more expenses.

Fire at World's Fair.
St. Louis, Dec. 3.—A conflagration which gave the firemen a suburban light, and which, owing to the high wind, threatened the entire exposition grounds, was discovered in "Ancient Home," on the plaza, shortly after midnight. The flames spread with great rapidity and destroyed part of "Fair Japan," all of "Que Vadis" and the "Streets of Rome." In addition to the loss of the buildings a collection of oil paintings, depicting scenes in the novel "Que Vadis," valued at $75,000, was burned. They were painted by Jan Styka, a Polish artist, and were brought to this country under a bond of $50,000. A man who gave the name of Arthur V. Dunn was arrested, charged with suspected arson. He was seen, it is said, in the vicinity before the fire was discovered.

Nissen's Last Feat.
Stevensville, Mich., Dec. 2.—Peter Nissen, who attempted to cross Lake Michigan in a balloon boat called "Foot-kicker No. 3," was found dead on the beach, two miles and a half west of here. Nissen is supposed to have been washed ashore during the night. His "Foot-kicker" was about 20 rods down the beach from the body and was considerably damaged. A life preserver and an overcoat were fastened to the basket-shaped car in the boat. The body was brought to Stevensville, where it lies in the town hall. The hands and face were frozen and the features reflected much suffering.

Total Vote in Ohio.
Columbus, O., Nov. 30.—Secretary of State Laylin has announced the total vote cast in Ohio at the last election. The official canvass shows it totaled 1,026,229 ballots cast, of which there were counted for president 1,041,393, a per centum of 97.87. The total vote for secretary of state was 1,001,230. The total vote counted for president was: Roosevelt, 600,095; Parker, 314,674; Swallow, 19,239; Debs, 36,260; Corcoran, 2,633; and Watson, 1,592. Roosevelt's plurality totaled 255,421.

Oklahoma's Demand.
Washington, Dec. 5.—The flag of our republic will not be complete until on its field of blue is placed the rising star of Oklahoma," says the annual report of Governor T. B. Ferguson of Oklahoma. "With 700,000 people, $340,000,000 worth of property, the major portion of our public expenses bestowed upon our schools, unprecedented advancement along all lines of enterprise, it seems that congress should give us the authority to exercise in full the rights of American citizens."

Sale of Fair Buildings.
St. Louis, Dec. 5.—It was stated that a contract for the sale of the 11 big exhibit palaces, stock barns, festival hall, the colonnade of states, pavilions, aerodrome, bank, intramural railroad, hospital, press building, police and fire stations, with other World's fair structures that cost $15,000,000, will be signed this week with a Chicago wrecking company for $785,000.

Babe With Two Heads.
Somerville, Mass., Dec. 5.—A female child was born here, born in East Somerville 12 weeks ago, is attracting much interest among the medical fraternity about Boston. The baby is in the best of health and perfectly normal in every other respect. The mother is 29 years old. The child weighed 14 pounds at birth.

John Bull's Coaling Orders.
Colombo, Ceylon, Dec. 5.—In pursuance of instructions from the home government at London regarding coaling facilities for belligerents, either directly or indirectly, a notice was issued that no vessel shall be supplied with coal without the permission of the local government.

Fatal Fire.
Pittsburg, Dec. 1.—One person was cremated, two injured and four houses burned early this morning in a fire at Duquesne Junction, across the Monongahela river from Braddock. The dead man is Albert H. Fleming, aged about 62 years. The property loss is only $15,000.

Newland's Defeat.
Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 5.—In the Eighth congressional district the certificate of election was given E. Spencer Blackburn (Rep.), whose majority over W. C. Newland (Dem.) is 645. No contest was made before the state election board.

Snow in the West.
Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 5.—Show fell over central and eastern Kansas, and despite the fact that it melted rapidly at first, the ground was covered with more than two inches in many places. The moisture was needed by the wheat.

Wakeful?
Sleeplessness Is a Sign of Nerve Trouble and Should Be Looked To.

There are three different manifestations of sleeplessness.
First, hardly to sleep a wink all night, second, to awake a long time before falling asleep; third, to fall asleep soon, waking up after several hours and then find it hard to sleep again.
They mean that somewhere in the nerve fibres, somewhere in the brain cells, somewhere in the blood vessels that carry blood to the brain, something is radically wrong, and must be righted, or the end may be worse than death.
To right it, take Dr. Miles' Nervine.
Some other symptoms of nerve trouble are: Dizziness, Headache, Back-ache, Worry, Restlessness, Irritability, Melancholy, Lack of Ambition.
They indicate diseases which may lead to Epilepsy, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance, Nervous Prostration, Paralysis, Insanity. Nothing will give such quick and lasting relief as Dr. Miles' Nervine.
"My husband had been sick for weeks, could not sit up to have his bed made. With all the medical help we could get he continued to grow worse. He could neither sleep or eat. Our baby was sent away, and all calls barred, because he could not stand a bit of him. I read of a case of nervous prostration cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine. We began giving it to him, and in a few days he was able to be dressed. From that time he steadily improved. Nervine saved his life."

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE.

We are authorized to announce
GRANT HOLLIDAY

as a candidate for Representative from the 92d Legislative District, composed of the counties of Breathitt, Lee and Magoffin, subject to the action of the Republican party.

FOR ASSESSOR.

We are authorized to announce
JOHN L. STRONG

as a candidate for Assessor of Breathitt county, subject to the action of the Republican party.

We call your attention to the improved appearance of our paper, which is the only all-home print paper ever published in this county. We have no patent in side, or outside, either, so if you want to read all the local news
you must read all four pages.

We have a No. 1 printer and with our improved cylinder press and with our former experience, we are able to give you a better paper than heretofore, and it is our intention to make the News a welcome weekly visitor all over this mountain section. We already have a larger circulation than ever enjoyed by any other paper in this section, but we want to still increase our list. If you are not already a subscriber, we invite you to jump into the band wagon and go with us through 1905 and we will try to be so interesting and entertaining that you will stay with us forever.

A great uproar is being made because there is a million children in the United States earning their own living. It strikes us that it is vastly creditable to the children, however discreditable to their natural protectors, and that nobody has any business to object to it except benevolent and public-spirited persons who are willing to adopt the children and send them to school where they should be. For legislatures to pass laws prohibiting those who are orphaned from working in factories or anywhere else, in order to support themselves, is cruel and inhuman.

Correspondence.

TROUBLESOME.

Eliza Noble and Batis Noble, of South Quickland, came to this place last Sunday and stayed with Mrs. Flora Sizemore, wife of Colson Sizemore, and who were recently married, and Susan Stacy to Paris unknown to the writer. I would say to them and to the public, remember the glorious benevolence laid down in the Bible—
"What God hath joined together let no man put asunder," leaving Colson Sizemore and Henry Stacy to mourn
the loss of their companions.

ROOSEVELT.

A WONDERFUL DEER HUNT.

James Roberts, Obeliah Roberts and R. O. Davis have just returned from the State of Wisconsin, where they have been on a hunting tour which lasted thirty-one days. Their license cost them $25, which permitted them to kill and ship two deer from the State. They arrived in Jackson on November 26th with two large deer and a number of skins and horns. On November 26th, Mr. and Mrs. James Roberts gave a deer feast to more than thirty-five of their friends. The party enjoyed their hunt very much. James Roberts, who is 55 years old, killed two deer, one wolf, a lot of birds and small game. He was the last man to kill a deer in Breathitt county, on the Jack-Wilson farm on Frozen, about twenty-five years ago.

Ransom Roberts, wife and daughter from North Grandon, Wisconsin, were in the feast and will visit friends and relatives till the first of March, when they will return to Pine River, Wis.

E. Roberts, of Perry county, was also at the feast and was especially proud of the record his father had made on his first hunting trip in the northwest. He says he will try his luck next year.

Bookwith and Cashier Spear pleaded not guilty when arraigned before United States Commissioner Shaver, and both were bound over in the sum of $10,000 each, to be held for trial in

Oberlin bank. He said Cashier Spear and himself indorsed three notes for Mrs. Chadwick, two $500.00 notes and one for $250.00. These notes, Mr.
Bookwith said, bore the name of Authur Carnegie, and he believed the signatures genuine. Receiver Nathan

Long Drought Broken.

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 6.—Special dispatches from all sections of West Virginia state that the drought which has prevailed since August has been ended by the coming of a light rain, which is likely to turn to snow. The damage to the winter wheat crop, it is believed, will be enormous, the rain having come too late. Pastures all will have to be re-sown in the West Virginia blue grass region. The rain thus far is not sufficient to give relief unless it continues several days, and if the smaller water courses being dried up.

Leigh, Bridger's granddaughter, will unveil the monument. A life-sized Brutal Murder.

Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 5.—At Stones River, two miles above Thurmond, Sam Miller and an accomplice murdered George Dane by beating out his brains with an iron bar. The two men then boarded a passing freight train and attempted to escape. Miller's ac-

Trackless Trolley Line.

Berlin, Dec. 6.—The first trackless trolley street railway has begun operation in Berlin, and is apparently a success. The vehicles resemble electric omnibuses, but derive their power from an overhead trolley. They have a speed of 10 miles an hour. They are equipped with a special type of wheels
to prevent stoppages by snow.

HOME BURNED.

Mother and Two of Her Children the Victims of Fire.

Pittsburg, Dec. 5.—Mrs. Rock Perry and two of her children were burned to death in their home. Rock Perry, the husband, and his son Henry and daughter Annie Perry, were forced to stand in the street and see the tragedy.
The dead: Mrs. Rock Perry, 35;
Harmer Perry, 3; Charles Perry, 6.
The fire is thought to have been caused by a spark from a coal stove setting fire to the carpet which Mrs. Perry was cleaning with gasoline. The first thing known about the fire was when flames were seen issuing from the front door of the house. Neighbors who watched the fire from its start said that never a sound or a man is heard from the house on fire.

Washington, Dec. 6.—General James N. Tyner, 78, who died here after protracted illness caused by paralysis,

ter general during President Grant's administration. His last official duty was as assistant attorney general for the postoffice department, from which office he was removed last year and subsequently indicted, together with Harmon J. Barrett, a nephew of his son-in-law, on a charge of conspiracy in connection with the use of mails by certain alleged "get-rich-quick" enter-

Judges Pryor and Hazelrigg will make argument for Roberts.

Caleb Powers Gets a New Trial.

The court of appeals on last Tuesday reversed the decision of the Scott county circuit court in the Caleb Powers case. This is the third reversal of this case. The reversal was based on three grounds: First, that the lower court refused to give the defendant time to file grounds for a new trial; second, because sentence was pronounced on the same day the verdict was returned; third, because of remarks of attorney T. C. Campbell, of the prosecution, referring to how the jury arrived at a verdict in the James Howard case.

In the first two trials Powers was sentenced to life imprisonment and in the third trial he was sentenced to hang. The charge against him was complicity in the murder of Senator Wm. Goebel in January, 1900.

Corn Hard to Excel.

We occasionally hear it said that Breathitt county is not a good farming country. To any who are of that opinion, we invite them to come to our office and see the fine specimens of corn raised this year by George Fletcher at the St. Bend on the farm of G. W. Sewell, near the mouth of Frozen creek. These samples will compare favorably with any we saw at the world's fair, where we saw thousands of specimens. Our soil is just as productive as any, and if we would devote our energies more to the proper cultivation of it we could have just as good products as in the level sections.

Breaking of a Cable Kills Three Miners—Foul Play in a Fatal Fray—Panic Follows a Fire—Other Mentions.

Huntington, W. Va., Dec. 5.—The breaking of a cable at the Loop river mines, in Tulequeon, near Welch, dashed three miners on the rocks 700 feet below and killed them instantly. Searching parties found the bodies of the victims crushed and mangled beyond recognition. The names of the dead are: John Winters, Harry Wolburn, Henry Clay (colored). The accident caused a general cessation of work in the mines, the 500 men employed refusing to work until after the burial of the dead. The cable was one that is used for conveying coal from the mines to a chute, and is 1,000 feet long. The miners have been frequently riding in cable cars to and from the mines.

A Visit From Dean Swift.

The Irish reformer, Father Matthew, used to tell of a remarkable visit made to him by a remarkable visitor. Mr. Matthew lived near Dublin and invited the eccentric dean to dine and spend the night at his house. A large party of the neighboring gentry were hidden to meet him. The dean drove up to the house and, assuming the hat, asked the names of the guests.

"Tell your master," he shouted, "I will meet no such people," and drove away in a fury. Before he reached the lodge gates, however, he changed his mind, returned, alighted and demanded to be shown to his room.

When his host came to him Swift said, "I am willing to accept your hospitality, but I will not meet your guests."

He was told that his meals should be served in his room, as if he were at home. He remained there isolated for two days, then came down to high good humor, joined the party and extended his visit for four months.

The True Meaning of "Worry."

The generic and much covering term of "worry" is often the name for a trouble the essential part of which is the "difficulty of making up the mind."

Those who can read between the lines discern also in many a case of sulch the same difficulty as the final cause which plunged a weak and distracted intelligence into the ultimate catastrophe.

The Socratic method of the struggle with doubts, alternatives and perplexities the mind that cannot be "made up" is overthrown altogether.—London Lancet.

General Schenck's Last Game.

General Robert E. Schenck was a famous poker player. Just a week before his death he sat around a table in his own house with General Schofield, General Tucker and two United States senators. It was a jack pot. Everybody had passed up to Schenck, who promptly opened it for the limit. One of the senators raised, the general raised back, and the senator stayed. Each drew one card. Then the betting began, fast and furious. Finally the senator said:

"General, I have you beaten. I think I have a sure thing, and I don't want to let any more money on this kind of a hand."

"But I don't think you have me beaten. When I get enough of it I will quit."

So the merry war of chips renewed. Then the senator renewed his proposition and offered to forfeit the stakes by a wager of a dinner for the five gentlemen present. This was accepted. General Schenck had four aces. The senator had a straight flush. But the little dinner for the five never came off. Two days before the evening set for it General Schenck died.

How Much One Should Eat.

One of the much discussed questions of the day on which there are almost as many opinions as individuals is the quantity of food one should eat. Doctors all agree that the majority of people eat too much. Haldane from the day of their birth are forced to eat too much, and they grow up with this artificial appetite. The most reasonable estimate yet made is probably that which fixes one-twentieth of the average weight of the body as the average daily quantity required. If you weigh 140 pounds you should consume seven pounds of food. This includes drink as well as solid food. But it is ridiculous to set down a hard and fast rule. Such a quantity might kill some, and there is a case on record of a man wasting away on a diet of seven or eight pounds of food a day. He cut down his diet to three-quarters of a pound of food and the same of solid food, and as a result he grew stout and lived to a ripe old age.

Shamers Love For Games of Chance.

The Shamers are devoted to the holiday making and ceremonious and professions which accompany the most important anniversaries or incidents of life, death and religion and which cause an infinite amount of money to be squandered and time lost.

They love games—killing, a sort of shuttlecock football and fighting with cocks, crickets, beetles and fish, though it is to be surmised that the main attraction of these pursuits consists in the scope thereby afforded for betting and gambling, which are the cardinal national vices.

A Shamers will stake money on anything. Licensed gambling houses exist in the cities and are a large source of income to the government, which farms out the monopoly. A royal lottery is extensively patronized in Bangkok.

Fineness of Engravers' Lines.

In St. John's college, Oxford, is preserved a portrait of Charles I. in which the engraver's lines, as they seem to be, are really microscopic writing, the face alone containing all the book of psalms, with the creeds and several forms of prayers.

The learned Pausanias is known to have indulged in this species of curious idleness occasionally, and perhaps the Greek verses from the Medea of Euripides, with Johnson's translation of the engraver's lines, as they seem to be, are really microscopic writing, the face alone containing all the book of psalms, with the creeds and several forms of prayers.

An Astute Blind Man.

A blind man possessed $200, and, for safety, hid it in a tin can in a corner of his garden. A neighbor saw him at his work and in the night stole his money. The blind man on discovering his loss and suspecting his neighbor went to him and said: "My friendly readers are no doubt, and few are the persons whom I can trust. You are one of those few, and I have come to tell you a secret and to ask your advice. I am the possessor of $100 in gold. I have hidden half of it in a place which I believe to be secure. Do you think I would do well to put the other half in the same place?" "Yes, by all means," replied his neighbor. "Were I in your place I would do the same. There is no knowing what may happen if you keep your money in your house." Having given his advice, the thief, hoping to get the rest of the blind man's money, listened to replace the half he had stolen, and thus the astute blind man recovered his property.

A Fall and a Lesson.

An English gentleman traveling some years ago in Ireland took a hammer and tacks along with him because he found that the cures at all the inns where he rested. At one of these inns he tucked down the carpet, which, as usual, was loose near the door, and soon afterward rang the bell for his dinner. While the carpet was loose the door could not be opened without a hard push, so when the waiter came up he just unlatched the door, then, much, and they grew up with this artificial appetite. The most reasonable estimate yet made is probably that which fixes one-twentieth of the average weight of the body as the average daily quantity required. If you weigh 140 pounds you should consume seven pounds of food. This includes drink as well as solid food. But it is ridiculous to set down a hard and fast rule. A Costly Jest.

It was a jest pure and simple that brought about the war between England and France in 1871 and ultimately cost the great William the life. William of course, was "great" in more senses than one. So stout was he in fact by reason of his idle and luxurious life that he could not walk from place to place, but had to be carried. One day his contemporary, Philip of France, deliberately remarked at dinner that William was "like a felled tree on castles and ought to be exhibited at a public market show." Naturally William heard of this and in a furious rage ordered his troops to invade at once. This was done, and a war commenced which ended in the English king being thrown from his horse and killed while superintending the siege of Nantes.

Adaptable Woman.

It is always a mystery how we change our figures, our faces and our gait with every change of fashion, but there is no denying the fact that we never do seem to accommodate themselves to Madame in Made in this way. One year they will be of the drooping, languid, Rosalind type; another they will be completely Georgian in face and style, and then, presto, fashion waves her wand and every one is magically transformed into a stately, square shouldered, across country looking person, with a face to match and a corresponding air.—London World.

How Whittier Raised Some Money.

An interesting story is told of the poet Whittier showing his ingenuity in getting subscriptions for a good cause. There were a number of carriage makers in Amesbury, where he resided, and being once unable to collect cash in consequence of the prevailing commercial depression, he suggested that each might contribute some part of a carriage—say the wheels, another the body, etc. Thus all the parts of a complete carriage were given, and it was sold for the amount required.

Breaking It Gently.

"You were a long time in the fur corner of the conservatory last evening," suggested the mother. "What was going on?" "Do you remember the occasion on which you became engaged to papa?" inquired the daughter, by way of reply. "Of course I do."

Not Hunting on Tick.

"You seem to be very quiet all of a sudden," said the clock key. "Yes, I am all right now," replied the clock. "Time is money, they say, so I guess I must be bankrupt."

Confidential.

"Do you love me?" said the paper bag to the sugar.

Happy.

Ethel—How happy Gladys looks to-night! Edythe—Yes, she expects to have a chance to meet Fred or turn down Charles, and she doesn't care which.—Clackin Commercial Tribune.

Same Old Reason.

"What was it caused the downfall of the Trojans?" asked the man who has forgotten his classics.

"It was the same old story," said the man who was reading the sporting page. "They wouldn't let the horses alone."—Washington Star.

Nothing to Fear Of.

Bluff—I'd like you to know, sir, that I'm a self-made man. Gruff—Well, I'm sorry for you, but keep it dark and don't think too much about it, and perhaps you'll get along all right.
